

Laurie Baker Trophy

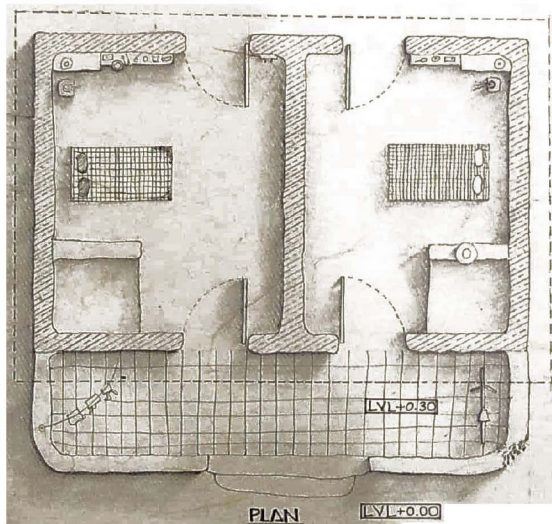

The tribal community in India is among the most vulnerable communities who have their fundamental rights violated in every step of life. On the basis of the brief, a hamlet which had inappropriate interventions with 30-60 families had to be selected. The analysis helped better understand the difference between the indigenous settlement pattern and the altered one. The study of this corresponding socio-culture and livelihood helped design a layout plan considering the number of families with required community buildings and spaces for livestock, livelihood, etc. A sample of 5 dwelling units had to be incorporated which followed the roots of housing by Laurie Baker. Thus making us realize that there is a need for understanding the tribal life- their culture and lifestyle- for making a better habitat for tribal communities.
